FURLONG-CLARKSON

Young Couple Married This Morning in the Parsonage of the Catholic Church by Rev. Jones.

Mr. Simon Clarkson of the county and Miss Pauline Furlong of East Fifth street were married at 8:45 o'clock this morning in the parsonage of the Catholic Church by Rev. P. M. Jones.

The marriage, which was announced several weeks ago, is the end of a happy courtship of several months and is the beginning of what their many friends wish a long and prosperous married life.

Mr. Clarkson is a Mason county boy and one of the most popular young men in this vicinity. For a number of years he has been connected with the State National Bank in the capacity of bookkeeper and with the Childs Cigar Co. as secretary and treasurer. Recently he with Mr. Frank Hauke opened the Indian Motorcycle Co. in this city.

Miss Furlong is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Furlong of Fifth street. She has a host of friends in the city and county.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on C. & O. train No. 6 for Springfield, Mass., where they will spend several weeks. They will return to this city about the first of October.

LIMESTONE BUILDING ASSOCIATION

The fifty-fifth series of the reliable Limestone Building Association is now open. Persons desiring to purchase a home or to save money that will bring them a handsome profit should see H. C. Sharp, Secretary, J. W. Fitzgerald, Treasurer, or any of the directors, to secure the number of shares desired.

ABLE TO BE OUT

Mr. John Crane of the firm of Crane & Shafer was able to be down town yesterday for the first time in several months. Mr. Crane's many friends will rejoice to hear of his ability to be out again.

NOTICE

Patrons of the Mason County Mutual Telephone Company are hereby notified that service will be discontinued to all parties who fail to pay their accounts within thirty days after bills for same have been rendered. J. R. COCHRAN, Pres.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wells and two children of Greenville, Miss., are visiting Mayor and Mrs. J. Wesley Lee. They motored through in their Dodge car in four days' time. Mr. Wells is now a very successful business man in Greenville.

Mr. George Bauer returned to Lexington, Ky., yesterday where he will attend school in the State University.

MARRIED IN CINCINNATI

Mr. Robert Peddicord and Miss Evelyn Smith of this city are made one in the Metropolis of Southern Ohio.

Word was received here last evening of the marriage of Mr. Robert Peddicord and Miss Evelyn Smith, both of this city, in Cincinnati.

The marriage came as a great surprise to the relatives of the pair and to their many friends, they having given no idea of their intention when leaving here. Mr. Peddicord has accepted a position in Louisville, Ky., and Miss Smith was on her way to take charge of a teachers' position in a college in Georgia. It is supposed by their respective mothers that they have gone one to Louisville where they will locate.

Mr. Peddicord is the son of Mrs. Cora Petticord, superintendent of the City Mission and is a popular and well liked young man. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Lilla Hall Smith of East Second street, author of "Down Our Way". Miss Smith is a talented young woman and for the past several years has been in a school of expression in Cincinnati. Her friends in this city are numbered by the scores.

The best wishes of all their friends are being given for a long and prosperous married life.

Carranza (to Uncle Sam): "Giddap!"

MRS. JANE BALL

Mason County's Oldest Resident Passed Away This Morning at Age of 96—Funeral Friday Afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Ball, aged 96 years, widow of the late Kemp Ball, passed away this morning at 5:35 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Mitchell, on East Second street, her death being due to the infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Ball was born on April 17, 1820, in Lewis county. At the age of 12 she came to Maysville to make her home and has resided here since that time.

She has watched the growth of Maysville through the last seventy-seven years and few are the buildings that have not been erected since she came here. Many are the interesting stories she has told about the early history of the town, and could all the interesting things that she has witnessed and been concerned in be published in a volume it would indeed be a large book and many of the tales would be more remarkable than the best of fiction.

Mrs. Ball has failed rapidly in the last four years, her eyesight having begun to dim at the beginning of that time. During the last year she has been confined to her bed and her mind has not been as clear as it was only a few years ago.

Mrs. Mollie Mitchell of this city, and Mr. William Ball of Huntington, W. Va., are the only surviving children. She is also survived by several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

In Mrs. Ball's declining years her daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, has done all in her power to make life as bright and pleasant as possible and made it her especial duty to look after her welfare, leaving no wish or want unsatisfied.

During all her life Mrs. Ball has remained steadfast in the Christian faith, being a member of the local Baptist church and a constant attendant and indefatigable worker as long as she was able to get about.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the First Baptist Church with services by Dr. J. W. Porter of Lexington, assisted by Dr. W. C. Mitchell of Georgetown. Burial in the Maysville cemetery.

MARRIED AT ANCHORAGE

Mr. Paul Heflin of Flemingsburg and Miss Dove B. Embry of Lexington were married Tuesday afternoon in Anchorage, Ky. They left on a bridal trip to Chicago and will return about the first of October to Flemingsburg where they will make their home.

Mr. David Bierley of Fifth street is spending a few days in Cincinnati.

JONES-WARREN

Mr. George W. Warren, 28, of Oakwoods, Fleming county, and Miss Mary T. Jones, 22, of Alhambra, Robertson county, were married in this city yesterday by Rev. Campbell.

CHALLENGE

The Maysville Regulars challenge the Climax team to a three game series of baseball to be played within the next three weeks.

WILSON ON THE TARIFF

From the historical writings of Professor Woodrow Wilson the newspapers of the country are drawing many interesting statements applicable to the present conditions. Some of the views expressed by Professor Woodrow Wilson, the student of constitutional history appear to be directly contrary to the views of Woodrow Wilson President.

The Washington Post, in calling attention to the dangers to this country at the close of the European war, published an extract from one of Woodrow Wilson's historical writings showing what was done after the War of 1812 and points out how as the country was then saved from the flood of foreign goods it can now be saved if President Wilson will follow the policy that Historian Wilson advocated. On this point the Post says:

There should be no hesitancy on the part of President Wilson in evolving a policy for the United States. There is no need for pride of opinion when the whole world is changing. As a historian, Mr. Wilson wrote impartially of the conditions that followed the close of the War of 1812. In one of his books he said:

"Peace changed the very face of trade. English merchants poured their goods once again into the American ports so long shut against them by embargoes and war. It was manifestly injurious to every young industry that a flood of English imports should continue to pour into the country at the open ports. The remedy was a protective tariff, such as Mr. Hamilton had wished to see at first and the young Republican leaders of Congress did not hesitate to advocate and establish it."

Similar conditions face the country today. The President can eliminate one of the biggest issues of the campaign by drawing upon his knowledge of history and giving the country what is needed to meet the situation which is fast approaching.

U. S. Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas—"Now, what has been the record of the Democratic party? When it was in power in 1894, 1895, 1896 and 1897 the expenses of the Government exceeded its receipts, so that the Cleveland administration was forced to issue bonds to the extent of $262,000,000 to raise money with which to pay the ordinary expenses of the Government. Need I tell you the experience under Mr. Wilson's administration? The ordinary internal revenue and customs receipts of the Government have been so small that it has been forced to resort to a 'war tax' in a time of peace. Not only has this Democratic administration resorted to a 'war tax' but it has also resorted to an income tax on individuals and corporations, and yet the party in power is now looking for more articles and industries to tax, and in this case they are asking for $205,000,000 more of a war tax and threaten at the same time to issue $132,000,000 of bonds. For one, speaking as a Republican, I am opposed to a war tax in time of peace, and I am also opposed to the issue of bonds to raise money to pay the ordinary expenses of the Government."

Democrats are desperate. On no other theory can we explain their preposterous complaints against Mr. Hughes' destructive criticism of their blundering. They make no attempt to answer him. In that they display a discretion which is almost human; for he is unanswerable. The absolute truth of every count in his indictment of Wilsonian blundering is impregnable. Denial would be fantastic folly. Justification is impossible. But what says the old lawyer's rule? "No case. Abuse the opposing attorney!" But to follow that rule is to confess defeat.

Wilson may keep the Northern Guardsmen in Texas until after the election and John Sharp Williams may prevent them from casting their votes down there in camp. But nothing can prevent them from writing letters home—and their relatives cannot be kept away from the polls.

The high fragmentation of those Hughes bombs is causing consternation in the Wilson trenches.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

Wilson and Mexico—Other friends and admirers of President Wilson deplore the fact that in his speech of acceptance he, apparently inadvertently, abandons the pretense so long maintained that he seized Vera Cruz in order to compel Huerta to salute the flag, and frankly says that it was his purpose to force out of office "the unspeakable Huerta." Whatever people may think of the wisdom of an effort to force Huerta out of office, the public is not likely to enjoy learning that their President wilfully, deliberately deceived them when he went into Vera Cruz, and for months afterwards, and that, when he declared in his Indianapolis speech that he would not "butt in" to Mexico nor permit anyone else to do so, he was laughing in his sleeve at the unintelligence and credulity of the people which had enabled him to fool them into believing that he went into Mexico to force a salute to the flag when he actually went in, as he now tells them, to force Huerta out.

Reporting The Candidate—Local newspapers from along the line of Gov. Hughes trip are beginning to reach New York and present a radically different view of the candidate from that depicted by the eastern dailies. This is, obviously, due in large part to the fact that newspaper correspondents with the candidate are compelled, by the difference in time and the delay of transmission, to send to their papers in the East reports of the Hughes meetings written in advance of their actual occurrence. So much of the speeches as they quote has been prepared in advance and there is an entire absence of that "punch" and fire which evidently characterize Mr. Hughes' speeches and which, as is the case with every speaker, are largely inspired by the enthusiasms of his auditors. Then, too, Mr. Hughes has a decided facility in utilizing local facts and incidents to point his arguments and these are naturally omitted by the correspondents as not likely to be understood so far away.

After the War—There has been a great deal of talk about conditions after the war. The Republicans believe there will come an era of the fiercest industrial competition and that unless the tariff law is amended the industries of the United States will suffer disaster. The Democrats, however, profess to believe that an era of prosperity will follow the end of the war, and they actually insist that the present prosperity is permanent. Facts and figures, however, speak louder than academic argument and here are facts and figures. When the European war broke out 55 per cent of the plant of the Carnegie Steel Company was idle, and there was much distress among its employees. Recently 100 per cent of its plant was running full and its employees are prosperous. But—and it is a big but—55 per cent of its recent output consists of ammunition, or some form of steel designed for use in making ammunition. The instant the war stops, that 55 per cent of the plant will again be idle, and so will the employees who are operating it.

"A Daniels Denial"—"A typical Daniels denial" is the term which ex-Rep. Ralph Cole applies to Secretary Daniels' is the term which denial of Mr. Cole's assertion that American troops were sent into Vera Cruz with orders not to fire unless they were fired on and that, therefore, there was needless loss of American lives as the fleet should have been permitted to shell the city until it surrendered before a landing was attempted. Secretary Daniels replies with a quotation from Admiral Badger's report which would seem to indicate that no such order was issued. But Mr. Cole points out that, while Admiral Badger was in command of the fleet, it was Admiral Fletcher who was in command at Vera Cruz and he quotes Admiral Fletcher's report the sentence, "Our men are only firing when fired at." Mr. Cole also quotes General Canada whose report read, "Our men simply defending themselves." Mr. Cole also quotes the New York Sun's correspondent who cabled, "Admiral Fletcher's order were that the landing party should occupy these positions (custom house, etc.) and make no attack on Mexican troops unless they were attacked." The statement, made in a reputable paper at the time was never denied by the administration.

Wilson And The Embargo—"A policy was at stake, peaceful means had failed, so a President whose war cry it that he has kept this country out of war used as his instrument the most horrible and indefensible kind of warfare and all the forces of murder. Unbridled passion and lust were armed and encouraged to conduct a conflict in which nothing was sacred, not even the alters of religion." This is Senator Lippitt's summing up of President Wilson's lifting of the embargo on arms to Mexico, which he described as the unpardonable sin of the Wilson administration. Mr. Lippitt points out that having failed by all other means in his meddlesome policy of "eliminating Huerta," on February 3, 1914, Mr. Wilson raised the embargo on arms consigned to Villa and Carranza, with the result that 72,000 rifles and more than 35,000,000 rounds of ammunition had been shipped into Mexico by August 15; and it is these arms which have been used to shoot down American soldiers, and American citizens as they bravely but futilely strove to protect the honor of their wives and daughters from the lust of "Woodrow Wilson's proteges." Senator Lippitt compares President Wilson's course with Burgoyne's arming the Indians to destroy his white opponents.

I'M SURE YOU'LL LIKE THAT LAND OUT WEST I SOLD YOU—I SOLD MY FATHER-IN-LAW SOME JUST LIKE IT AND HE WAS SO TAKEN UP BY THE PLACE, HE SETTLED DOWN THERE FOR GOOD!

BUT THIS IS HOW HE DID IT

Wilson and the Embargo—Mr. Roosevelt gives a graphic account of how Mr. Wilson has continually changed his mind on the subject of permitting arms and ammunition to go into Mexico. In August 1913, Mr. Wilson announced in his message to Congress that he would not permit arms to go in and established the embargo. On February 2, 1914, he changed his mind and raised the embargo. A couple of hundred American soldiers, sailors and civilians were killed or wounded during the next two months. On April 23, Mr. Wilson changed his mind again and restored the embargo, "but on May 15, he changed his mind again and the embargo was lifted so far as shipments to Tampico and other Mexican ports were concerned." On September 9, the embargo was lifted everywhere. "On October 29, 1915, when all of the factions had been amply supplied," Mr. Wilson changed his mind again and restored the embargo. Mr. Roosevelt continues: "On October 29, last, therefore, Mr. Wilson specifically permitted arms to be sent to the same Carranza who, in the month of September, thirty days previous, on four specific occasions, invaded American territory and butchered American citizens, mutilating them before or after death. On the date when this embargo was thus raised, the names of 276 Americans who had been murdered had been officially placed on file. How many others had been murdered cannot at the present be told."

HUGHES' CRITICISM OF FOREIGN POLICY APPROVED IN WEST

(Portland, Ore., Telegram.)

The Republican party has selected a standard-bearer whose utterances from day to day justify the people who chose him. Not only does he bring before the country the shortcomings of the Administration that owes its existence to a divided Republicanism, but his criticism is everywhere constructive.

He tells what must be done and will be done by the party he represents to prevent wastefulness and extravagance in the governmental expenditures and to put a stop to the vacillating policy that has caused other nations to believe that the United States has no intention of backing up its demands made in the interests of justice and humanity.

Most vulnerable of all points in the Democratic armor is its foreign policy. Primarily this is because of the spoils system by which men trained in the consular and diplomatic service through long years, have been displaced to make room for politicians and friends of politicians, whose sole claim to preferment was their service to the Democratic party.

"If I am elected president of the United States," said Mr. Hughes last night, "I propose that every man I put in charge of an important department shall be a man eminently fit to discharge the duties of that department."

The denuding of the diplomatic service of men of experience in order to supply political jobs, as has been done by Mr. Wilson, or with his consent, Mr. Hughes denounces as "a capital offense—trading in the good name of the United States and damaging its honor." "Nobody," he adds, "has a right to pay political debts with the good name and honor of the United States."

Which is clear proof that Mr. Hughes has not been unkind of the high principles of government which must be maintained in order that this republic shall maintain its place as a shining example to all nations.

Some people are so generous as to give away all their good advice, never saving any for themselves.

SEEK PROGRESSIVE AND LABOR VOTES ON FALSE CLAIMS

Democrats Posing as the Enactors of Legislation Which the Indisputable Facts Show to Be of Republican Origin.

AUTHORITY ON SOUND SOCIAL LAW CITES 11 GLARING CASES

Organized Labor Resents This Deception and Running True to Form Will in November as at Many Previous Elections Indignantly Smite Those Who Without Justice Lay Claim to Its Gratitude—Even the Much-Touted Federal Reserve Law is Based Entirely on the Statistical Research of a Republican Administration.

That "No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude" is the assertion of John Williams, ex-commissioner of labor, apropos of certain false claims set forth by Vance McCormick, Democratic National Chairman, in behalf of his party.

Chairman McCormick caused to be published in the New York Times, on July 31, an appeal for Progressive and Labor support, based on "twenty measures enacted by Congress while President Wilson has been in the White House," and for which he claims credit for the Wilson administration and asks Progressive approbation. Commenting on this statement, the former Commissioner of Labor says:

"Students and promoters of sound social legislation will do well to examine this list for it contains a number of items of unusual interest."

"We may well believe that it was with a great deal of pride that Mr. McCormick contemplated the record of his party and that he drew a vivid mental picture of Progressives flocking to the support of Mr. Wilson because of the things claimed on behalf of this administration."

"It is a pity that in the interest of truth, which knows neither Democrat, Progressive nor Republican, we must mar this remarkable statement. Nevertheless, it is our duty to call attention to the fact that in his effort to induce support for Mr. Wilson the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee has fallen into a glaring error. We have no desire to disparage the achievements of the Wilson administration, but we must enter emphatic protest against any attempt to pad the record."

"Mr. McCormick claims 'twenty measures enacted by Congress while President Wilson has been in the White House.' This claim we dispute. More than one-half are measures enacted under a Republican administration and were approved by ex-President Taft, and for others the Democratic administration deserves no credit."

"Let anyone think that this is a groundless assertion we herewith furnish the record which can easily be verified:

- From among the twenty pieces of legislation cited by Chairman McCormick, I select the following:
- (1) Eight hour law on government work. In effect March 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (2) Eight hour provision for post office clerks. In effect generally August 24, 1912.
 - (3) Eight hour provision applicable to the manufacture of ordnance for the government. In effect January 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (4) Children's Bureau. In effect April 9, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (5) Industrial Commission Law to investigate industrial relations. In effect August 23, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (6) The phosphorous match law. Enacted in 1912, effective as to the importation of white phosphorous matches January 1, 1913, and as to the manufacture of such matches July 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (7) The Department of Labor Law creating a department with a secretary who shall be a member of the President's Cabinet. In effect March 4, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (8) The Parcel Post Law. In effect January 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
 - (9) The Federal Reserve Law which, while passed during this administration, is based entirely on the vast work of investigation and compilation done by the Monetary Commission, during the Taft Administration, and closely follows, except in certain details, the legislation recommended by that commission.
 - (10) The eight-hour law for the District of Columbia, was fathered and put through by a Republican, Senator La Follette.
- The anti-trust law antedates the Cleveland Administration—although President Cleveland never enforced it. From time to time, as with all great legislative acts, it has been necessary to amend or add to it, and the anti-trust law of the Wilson Administration was merely such an amendment, a logical development of the original act.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Maysville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, says: "I think kidney trouble came from a strain in my case. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I hadn't caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. It finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and at times my hands were the same way. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

A PERMANENT CURE

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have completely and permanently cured me."

(11) The Commerce Court was actually abolished during the Taft Administration, although it has not been demonstrated that its abolition was a wise step.

"Any statement hereafter emanating from Mr. McCormick will be subjected to the closest scrutiny. The errors in his first effort are inexcusable and can only arouse resentment among labor men and social workers. No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude."

"Will Mr. McCormick explain his padding of the record?" (Signed) JOHN WILLIAMS, Ex-Commissioner of Labor, New York State.

FARMERS SIZE UP HUGHES AS "PRETTY GOOD FELLOW"

Fargo, N. D.—Charles E. Hughes campaigned for the first time among the sturdy farmers of the eastern part of North Dakota and left behind him the reputation of being a "pretty good fellow."

He was forced to undergo a critical scrutiny before the verdict was given. Mr. Hughes preached the doctrines of government efficiency, Americanism, tariff as protection to the farmers and preparedness, and in each instance won applause, despite the fact that the farmers are not the strongest advocates of the last named issue.

They cheered for preparedness the loudest when Mr. Hughes told them that it meant not militarism, but ability to uphold national honor.

As they cheered for Mr. Hughes, one broad-shouldered old farmer said "It's because there's something about him that makes you believe he's telling the truth."

To negotiate the primrose path with safety you should lean on the arm of a millionaire.

INTERESTING STETSON FACTS

Over 5400 people are employed at the STETSON factory in Philadelphia where every part of the hat is made. Over 40,000 pounds of raw silk were converted into ribbon for hat bands and bindings last year. 367,000 sheepskins were made into sweat bands. Even the paper hat boxes are made by STETSON—requiring over 903 tons of boxboard last year. STETSON has an auditorium seating 6,000, lunch rooms and a hospital for their employees; also a Savings Bank. STETSON workers are happy workers—they like their work and take pride in the fact that STETSON Hats have won first prize at every World's fair where these world-famous hats have been exhibited.

Stetson Hats are widely distributed all over the world. Men in every clime, of every tongue and every station in life wear Stetsons—because Stetson makes the hat that is always dependable—that offers a selection wide enough to satisfy every man's taste.

There isn't an authentic style, in color, shape, weight or finish that isn't presented first and best in a Stetson. And you'll find the widest selection and most expert help in choosing at our store.

GENERAL PERSHING MAY JOIN CARRANZA TROOPS

San Antonio, Texas, September 6.—If Francisco Villa gets within striking distance of the American expeditionary force, General Pershing's soldiers may join troops of the de facto government in an offensive campaign to exterminate the bandit and his followers. This was the statement of General Funston this afternoon.

El Paso, Texas, September 6.—Trains leaving Juarez for the south today carried additional guards of soldiers. Mexican military authorities would not discuss reports that the steps had been taken because of the northward march of Francisco Villa said to be operating in the Santa Clara canyon.

Hipolito Villa, a brother of the bandit chieftain, turned over by Federal authorities to state authorities was placed in the local county jail charged with an alleged conspiracy to destroy a railway bridge near Hancock Texas last February.

NEW YORK CARMEN CALL STRIKE

New York, September 6.—A strike was declared early tonight by unionized employees of the subway and elevated railway lines operated by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company. About 1,500 of the 11,700 carmen in the company's pay voted at a mass meeting to quit work immediately.

Employees on the "green line" of the New York Railways Company also voted tonight to strike. This is one of the most important of the city's surface car lines. The men acted through sympathy for the subway and elevated railway employees.

The Interborough employees demand an annulment of individual contracts binding them not to seek wage increases for two years.

Should the strikers succeed in their purpose more than 1,200 employees will be affected and New York will face the worst tie-up in its history.

FIX THE CORNERS

In building the brick streets in the downtown section the corners were compelled to be torn out at each intersection of the streets where the new ones were being laid and a few bricks were taken up. These bricks have not been replaced and the contractors have plenty of time and opportunity to do this. It gives the street a very bad appearance besides being somewhat dangerous as one's foot may slip into the hole formed by the removal of the blocks.
